Children in "Spring Glow"

The banishment of Jack Frost by the spring people was the theme of "Spring Glow," the operetta given by the Kindergarten-Primary Department in the College auditorium Wednesday evening, May 27th.

The excitement started when the bluebirds, Yvette Velie and Pattie Montgomery, came to awaken the sleeping pussy-willows, telling them that spring was coming.

The pussy-willows protested but the villain Jack Frost, alias Jack Dieterich, and his elves came to plan a party in the fields scattering the pussy-willows. Jack Frost captured the spring maidens and hid them in his cave. The butterflies, the bees, and the breezes all came to demand the maiden's release but Jack had a heart of ice.

The sunshine fairies saved the day, or rather the season, when they melted Jack's stern composure and handed him over to the brownies who spirited him away to the Northland.

Spring, which was played by Rosa Lee Glauser, was crowned by her people and all were happy.

The charming operetta was directed by Miss Grace Milliken, director of the kindergarten-primary department; Ruth Tegmeyer, instructor of music, and Margaret Sutton, instructor of physical education.

College Students Judge Contests

Four College students drove to Rosendale, Missouri, last Friday, March 22, and officiated at contests in dramatics and music for grade school pupils of the Rosendale district.

Beulah Frerichs and Jack Alsbach, both members of the O'Neillians, dramatics organization, judged the dramatics contests, which consisted of serious and humorous readings. Robert Lawrence and William Person, members of the Department of Music, judged music contests consisting of vocal solos, vocal duets, and piano solos.

Upper and lower grades were divided in the contests, and the winners in these events were to have competed in the Andrew county contests, which were held at Savannah last Saturday.

Art Students Will Engross Diplomas

Miss Olive S. DeLuce, chairman of the College department of Fine and Industrial Arts, announces this week that the more skilled members of her commercial arts class will be glad to hear from high school superintendents who wish their senior high school students' names printed upon their diplomas.

Only special students whose work is the most skillful will be allowed to work on the diplomas,

Miss DeLuce announced. Prices will be reasonable, and the work will be of the type of the most able commercial artists. Several students in the art class did this sort of work last year.

Anyone who desires prices may send to Miss Olive S. DeLuce, Chairman of the Fine and Industrial Arts Department, State Teachers College, Maryville, Mo., quote the estimate number of diplomas that will be needed, and Miss DeLuce will promptly submit the cost.

A.A.U.P. Meeting Hear Dr. E.S. Allen

Maryville Chapter of the American Association of University Professors held a supper-meeting at the Blue Moon Cafe last Sunday night in order to hear Dr. Edward S. Allen, a member of the National Committee on membership, from Iowa State College at Ames.

Dr. Allen is on his Spring vacation from duties at the Iowa State College, and he came to Maryville from a joint meeting of the William Jewell and Park College Chapters in Parkville last Sunday afternoon. The subject upon which Dr. Allen spoke concerned the purposes and accomplishments of the national organization.

Eleven members of the Association, and five guests were present to hear Dr. Allen Sunday night. The members who were in attendance were: Dr. J. W. Hake, president of the Maryville chapter, Miss Mattie Dykes, treasurer of the group, Miss Blanch Dow, secretary of the chapter, Miss Olive S. DeLuce, Miss Estella Bowman, Dr. Henry Foster, Dr. O. M. Mehus, Mr. W. T. Garrett, Mr. C. E. Wells, Mr. M. W. Wilson, and Mr. C. J. Velie.

Mrs. Ira Richardson Visits Friends Here

Mrs. Ira Richardson of Alamosa, Colorado, wife of a former president of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, visited Mrs. M. E. Ford and Miss Mattie Dykes, Friday, March 22.

Miss Dykes and Mrs. Ford entertained at a tea for Mrs. Richardson at the home of Mrs. Ford Sunday afternoon. Misses Blanche Dow and Olive S. DeLuce gave a dinner party for Mrs. Richardson Monday evening at the Hotel Linville, and on the following day she was entertained at lunch at the Hotel Linville by Miss Minnie B. James.

Mrs. Richardson, formerly Miss Tessie Degan, is a graduate of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College and has received her Master of Arts degree at the University of Colorado at Boulder, Colorado.

After visiting friends in St. Joseph and Kansas City, Mrs. Richardson will return to her home in Alamosa, Colorado. Mr. Richardson is president of the Adams State Teachers College, which is located in Alamosa.

Five Weeks Course Offers Wide Range of Courses. Large Enrollment Expected.

Bulletins announcing the courses offered in the annual Five-Weeks Short Course, which opens Monday, April 29, and closes Wednesday, May 29, this spring, are coming off of the press this week and will soon be ready for mailing.

Every spring an increasing number of students are finding it convenient to attend the Short Course, since under this arrangement those who care to do so may attend the Short Course and the following Summer Session for a possible total of fifteen semester hours credit plus additional credit for superior grades. Thus the requirement for a degree, a certificate, or a special field may be met more quickly than by attending just the regular Summer Session.

Courses which the faculty feels will be most in demand by the short course students have been scheduled. The courses bear credit which can be applied toward the regular certificates and degrees and are of numbers denoting freshman to senior student rank. Private music lessons may be had by the short course students. Classes in Agriculture, Education, English, Fine Arts, Industrial Arts, Geography, Mathematics, Music, Physical Education, Social Sciences and Speech will be offered.

Students enrolled in the Short Course will meet twice daily in each of two class courses which normally bear two and one-half semester hours of college credit. While the Short Course is designed particularly to serve Northwest Missouri teachers whose schools close in April, there are many others who find it in harmony with their plans and to their advantage to come to College at this particular time.

Now that the Summer Session is divided into two periods of five weeks each, the Short Course really becomes a part of the summer term, making the spring and summer session three periods of five weeks each. Thus a student may pursue college work during any two of these three periods and earn credit equivalent to that which he could earn in the regular Summer Term.

Spring is an ideal time to come to the College for work and those who attend the Short Course are welcomed to the College as a part of the regular College group and are urged to join in the regular social and recreational life on this campus. Many of the girls who come can live at the Residence Hall which is a center for much of the social life of the College.

Late registration fee will be charged for those students who enroll in the Short Course after six o'clock Monday, April 29. No one will be admitted after Wednesday, May 1. Short Course Bulletins will be sent to rural teachers in Northwest Missouri and to those who write for them.

If those who know people who would like to have one of the bulletins will leave names and addresses at the main office or at the information office, the bulletins will be mailed out.

Mr. A. H. Cooper, member of the College faculty now on leave of absence serving in the Missouri State Legislature meeting in Jefferson City, will give the senior class address of the Grant City High School at Grant City, May 9.

O'Neillians Present Successful Play

The O'Neillians, dramatics organization of the College, presented "Minick," a three-act comedy, at the College Auditorium, Monday, March 25, at 8 p. m. to a large and appreciative audience. The play was under the direction of Dr. Joseph Kelly, head of the speech department of the College.

The plot of the play was built around the situations arising as a result of an old man, Minick, trying to fit into the family of his son and daughter-in-law. The part of Old Man Minick was ably played by Paul Gates; the son and daughter-in-law, Fred and Nettie Minick were played by Stanley Gex and Virginia Lee Danford; Jim and Lil Corey, and Al and Marge Diamond played by June Morgan, Louise Bauer, Ralph Westfall and Marjorie Goode respectively were the very modern young friends of the Minicks.

Beulah Frerichs added much comedy to the play in her good portrayal of the two parts of Annie the Minick's maid at the beginning of the play and that of Lula, a negro maid. Mr. Price and Mr. Dietenhofer, friends of Minick from the Old Men's Home were played by Jack Alsbach and Dr. Kelly; and Mrs. Smallridge, Miss Crakenwald, and Mrs. Lippincott were women Club members played by Betty Bosch, Monica Lash and Frances Feurt. Dr. Kelly took the part to have been taken by Carlyle Breckenridge, who was unable to appear due to measles.

Students to See Play in Kansas City

Miss Margaret Stephenson is in charge of a group trip to Kansas City on Monday, April 15, to see Helen Hayes in Mary of Scotland. Others on the program will be Philip Mary Vale and Pauline Frederick.

The group will leave here at noon on April 15.

Miss Stephenson announces that anyone who wishes to go on the trip must report to her immediately. Many reservations have already been made, but there are a few tickets left. The price is $1.10 per person or reduced bus rates are available.

Phelps' Midgets defeated the Graves Tigers, 18-0, Wednesday, March 27.

Junior-Senior Prom Success

It was about nine o'clock Saturday evening when the juniors and seniors and their guests entered the large ship for the Junior-Senior prom. An array of beautiful dresses sweeping the floor, aristocratic tuxedos, and a joyous sound of chattering voices foretold the voyagers before they entered that the ship was really going to be a good ship lolly pop.

The West Library was decorated very uniquely for the occasion, the clever scheme carried out being the construction of a large ship of the West Library. The walls were covered with white paper, while on the walls were round windows out of which one could view the blue sea. A large compass informed the voyagers as to which direction they were traveling.

When the voyagers entered they first passed through a receiving line. The persons who were in the receiving line were: Misses Erma Walker, Louise Bauer, Blanche Dow, Messrs. Dean Miller, Kurby Bovard, and M. W. Wilson.

The young lady voyagers then received their dance programs. Clever programs were made in the form of log books, and each lady was given two—her partner's as well as her own.

At nine o'clock the orchestra began playing, when upon the first sound of the music, everyone joined in a deck promenade. This consisted of some very pretty marching, after which dancing commenced.

After several dances, the voyagers were entertained with tap dancing by several of Doris Logan's dancing pupils. At eleven o'clock every one took shore leave—or at an ordinary dance, that which would be called intermission. After intermission, there were six dances before departing, or the furlough.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the "Old Princetonian" orchestra of St. Joseph.

Dean Miller, president of the junior class was in full charge of the delightful entertainment. His committee chairmen were as follows: Max Seyster, orchestra and entertainment; Charlotte Leet, refreshments; Harold Person, finance; Lambert Miller and Elbert Barrett, decorations, and Barbara Zellar, invitations.

The prom was sponsored by the junior class in honor of the seniors, and everyone present had a good wholesome time.

List Teachers

The Committee on Recommendations has completed their enrollment of prospective teachers. Approximately 150 persons have enrolled with the committee. The committee is now busy trying to find positions to fit those enrolled and fitting those enrolled to the positions they know about.

Miss Hudson reports that Dotie Davis, B. S., '27, is now living at Mt. Trumbull, Arizona.

Debaters in Meet at Cape Girardeau

Maryville's debate team, composed of Jean Patrick, Louise Bauer, Dwight Dalbey, and Everett Evans, and its coach, Dr. Joseph Kelly, journeyed last Wednesday to Cape Girardeau, Missouri, to meet some of the best teams in Missouri and Southern Iowa in the regional Pi Kappa Delta Tournament in session at the Southeast Missouri State Teachers College during the end of this week.

Teams which are entered in the tournament will debate the question of: "Resolved, that the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions."

Thursday morning at ten o'clock was the date for the first debate in which Maryville would partake, and the team was to remain in competition until eliminated.

Having made three previous tournament journeys—one to Tallequah, Oklahoma, one to Marshall, Mo., and one to Iowa City, Iowa, this is the fourth and last tournament trip of the season. In the tournament at Marshall, the team was successful in winning second place, and at Iowa City, the squad won seven out of twelve debates.

This meet marks the close of the college debate career of three members of the local team: Jean Patrick, Everett Evans, and Dwight Dalbey, all seniors in the College this year.

Letter From Aldrich

Mr. LaMar recently received a letter from N. R. Aldrich to whom he wrote a few weeks ago asking Mr. Aldrich to give him a few statements as to the kind of work he is now doing. Following is the letter that Mr. LaMar received, in part:

"In looking through my desk for some lost article this morning, I found a letter from you dated February 8th which I do not recall answering. Please accept my apologies. The only alibi I have for this oversight is the pressing work of the Legislature along with considerable sickness in my home.

"It is very kind of you to offer to mention my name in your paper. I will always have a warm spot in my heart for the College and the many friends that I had the opportunity to make while at the college. Hardly a day passes but I see someone who has attended. I quite often come in contact with some fellow from some of the other teachers colleges who played basketball or football against Maryville while I was in school.

"Naturally, I have been interested to know what has become of the boys who were in school with me, especially, those with whom I played basketball. They were a wonderful bunch of boys. In my opinion, Paul Burks was the smoothest and most consistent player to ever grace the court in our conference. He played his freshman year while I was playing my last year in 1926. Later, as you know, he has been selected All-American at different times.

"The most thrilling game in my mind at this time was with Springfield at Maryville in 1926. Springfield was considered the only team that could stop us from winning the championship that year. We had played Cape the night before and won by a narrow margin. The Springfield coach and captain of the team were there to see us play Cape.

Our playing that night gave Springfield confidence. Even our closest friends doubted our ability to stand up under the Springfield attack.

"Shorty Lawrence had the ability of getting all there was in an individual player, and he was at his best for this game. The house was packed and Maryville had the chance to win its first basketball championship in the history of the school. At the start Springfield led. As the game progressed the score became closer. At the closing minutes, with us leading by one or two points, we pulled two plays in succession from the tip off that netted four points to put the game on ice. Much credit for these plays should go to Abie Bloomfield who was never out-jumped at center while he was at Maryville. The play was Bloomfield to Aldrich to Burks who scored the goals. Of course, the reason these two plays stand out in my mind is because they worked when they were needed. There have been many great teams developed at Maryville since that time.

"I left school in the spring of 1926 and moved to the farm near Sheridan where I was born, with the intentions of getting rich in a few years. Today, nine years later, I find myself no richer than I was when I started.

"My experience in the Missouri Legislature is comparable to my college days, only of course, in a different sense. I am serving my second term and third session. This is a great experience for any man, young or old, in any walk of life.

"I have been made Chairman of the Committee on Criminal Justice, one of the major committees of the House. The committees are a powerful function of a legislature. It is a well-known fact that the longer a person serves in the Legislature, the better he is fitted to serve his people, provided, of course, he has the welfare of his people at

Senate Sponsors April Fool Party

This (Friday) evening, starting at 8:00, the Social Committee of the College will sponsor an all-school Student Senate April Fools' Day party in the West Library.

Frances Feurt, chairman, Marian Maloy, Frances Shively, Helen Kramer, Arnold Carlson, William Bills, Luke Palumbo, and Robert Tracy compose the social committee, and they promise all who attend an evening of fun and merry-making.

Refreshments will be served during the course of the evening, and games will be played by those who do not care to dance. Prizes will be given for the winners of games. Dancing to the music of Buster Strong and his orchestra will continue throughout the course of the party.

Decorations in the Library will carry out the idea of All-Fools Day. Informality, naturally, will predominate at this party, as is the usual custom in All-Fools Day activities.

Frances Feurt, chairman of the Social Committee, has appointed the following persons in charge of the various functions of the social: Helen Kramer, in charge of refreshments; Marian Maloy, in charge of the entertainment; Robert Tracy and Luke Palumbo, in charge of the ticket sales and advertising.

The party will be a no-date affair, and a nominal sum of ten cents per person will be collected heart. The pay of the members of the Legislature is so small compared with the expenses involved that it is an imposition on any man to serve. However, it is remarkable how many high caliber men are drawn into the service of the state.

"With kindest personal regards, I am

Yours very truly,
N. R. Aldrich."

Spring Brings Out Racquets and Clubs

With the advent of the warm weather, the training of the candidates for the varsity golf and tennis teams is underway. The sun is the dictator in these fields, and as the days have become warmer the links and the courts have become more crowded.

The golf work has been carried on under the direction of Fred Cronkite, instructor of the College. Little is known of the caliber of the golfers, and as yet, no running mate has been picked for Cronkite, who won second in the M. I. A. A. last season.

The tennis team is being managed by Verne Campbell, midget veteran. Hantze, Barrett, and Bo-vard are returning team members, while John Wright and Virgil Yates are making determined bids for places. Several freshmen men are trying out for the team, but their ability is unknown.

H. S. SENIOR PLAY CHOSEN

Healthy, Wealthy, and Wise is the name of the Senior Class play. It will be under the direction of Miss Betty Bosch, freshman at the College. Tryouts for parts are being made and the play will be presented in four or five weeks.

Alumni Banquet In Kansas City, April 13

A letter from Mr. Ferd L. Masters, a graduate of the College and president of the Greater Kansas City S. T. C. Alumni Association, to Mr. LaMar, secretary of the College Alumni Association, announces the second annual Kansas City S. T. C. Alumni Banquet which is to be held Saturday evening, April 13, at the roof garden of the Ambassador Hotel.

The letter from Mr. Masters extends a cordial invitation to the administration, members of the faculty, students and friends of the College to attend the dinner with the Kansas City group. Mr. Masters says that the former students in Kansas City are expecting a large delegation from the College. He states that programs of the shows for that week-end in Kansas City will be sent to the College soon and urges that those from the College and Maryville come for a pleasant time in Kansas City. Mr. LaMar has fifty tickets and will be glad to reserve one for you, at once.

The Stroller

The Stroller is worried. He is having a hard time keeping her identity secret. She doesn't want anyone to know her personally because she is afraid someone will pull a "Huey Long" on him. Even if they did the Stroller believes he could "take it," because he had some experience at "taking it" during the Press Club meeting this week. Someone suggested there that the Stroller should dish out more than the dirt—he should pass out bouquets once in a while.

The Stroller likes nothing better than to give credit where credit is due, so he is awarding a medal this week to the cast of the play "Minick," and especially to Dr. Kelly of the Department of Speech, for the fine spirit with which they responded to the adversity which seemed to pursue "Minick." Despite the illness of two of the leading actors the play went on, and successfully, to the acting of Dr. Kelly, who accepted a leading role at the last minute, was more than commendable, and so was that of Louis Bauer who, when the Stroller saw her Monday morning, could hardly speak because of a sore throat. The Stroller says, "Congratulations to the cast of 'Minick'."

The Stroller learned from the editor that the Gospel Team's Sunday would have been successful, had it not been for the cracks directed at him (the editor) by certain members of the team. Mr. Dalbey claims that either Everett Evans or Gerald Rowan, the Stroller didn't understand which, called him the "big boy with the little brain." "And in my home community too," alleges Dalbey. The Stroller wonders if perhaps the good people of your home town were not all surprised by this information. Dear Editor. That "Dear Editor" with capital letters is to keep the editor from, to use the vernacular, "turning off" the Stroller.

The Stroller imagines the annual political mess which is cooked up every year by the perclassmen, with the aid and consent of the politically ignorant underclassmen, will start. First as a whispering campaign, then in all the pomp and pageantry of a nominating assembly, followed by speeches, rallies, and finally by the election itself, so will go the election of a new student president to the place of our very able speaker. The Stroller will support none of the candidates so do bring information on the life, character, or non-character of your opponents to him.

The Stroller went to the Junior Prom all decked out in his rowed finery. His tuxedo was a fairly good fit considering that the trousers were obtained from one source and the jacket from another. The only thing the Stroller wore which was his was his underwear and his socks. The trousers, pants to you, were definitely "high water" so the Stroller's socks were on display.

The Stroller noticed that Chas. Yates displayed his usual versatility by trying to change the order of the grand march. However, the dance was very successful for even the Stroller could find anything out of the way. Even those two jokesters, Mr. Velie and Mr. Wilson, kept themselves pretty well in hand.

The Stroller wishes to extend his best regards to Bauer, Perlick, Evans, and Dalbey who are in Cape Girardeau this week holding the honor of M.S.T. in the regional debate tour.

Dr. Painter In Clever Program

And we students always thought that professors were heartless!

After Dr. Painter, head of the English department of the College, spoke in assembly last Wednesday, we have changed our minds.

Dr. Painter told in rhyme of the suffering of students who are forced to listen to dull assembly speakers. Her clever lyric, which she called "The Slaughter of the Innocent," was divided as follows:

Prologue—Despair (much too long)

Canto I—The Dream (rather short and nightmare-ish)

Canto II—The Slaughter of the Innocent.

Epilogue

Dissolution—(which consists of nothing at all)

Dr. Painter told of her dread of speaking before the assembly, which she called "a personal experience with no connection to the subject." In the dream, she met the "dancing" electrons, whom we saw in assembly the week before. While she talked to the electrons, the seats before her turned to marble and she found herself in a cemetery. The epitaphs on the stones were of students who had died from some malady as "too much study" or "running to classes too fast."

At the far side of the cemetery Dr. Painter discovered some students who were not dead but in a state of unconsciousness. She asked the "dancing" electrons if there were any hope of reviving them and the electrons replied that they would if she would stop talking!

Before Dr. Painter's unique talk Monica Lash led devotions. Barbara Zellar read a synopsis of "Spring Glow," the operetta given on March 27. The children, in costume, sang a song from the operetta.

The Republican Party

At last the Republican Party is awakening from its lethargy. To put the party back upon its feet the members are realizing the necessity of a complete rehabilitation of the party along liberal lines. The midwestern portions of the party plan to get together in May to discuss the adoption of new party principles. There has been no outstanding opposition from the eastern wing of the party toward this meeting. Hoover has made some statements lately which might lead to the supposition of his possible candidacy in 1936.

Relief Bill

The administration has been getting some very "dirty digs" from both the progressives and the conservatives. The victories of the President are not at an end however. The latest news from Washington is that Roosevelt will be victorious in the passage of the relief bill which has been pending for several weeks. Harry L. Hopkins, Rexford G. Tugwell, and Secretary Ickes will probably administer the funds.

Secretary of War Dern

It is rather ironical that the Secretary of War, Gerge H. Dern, should call upon the United States to increase its armed forces while the countries of Europe are having so much difficulty over rearmament. If the government advocates that we have a bigger navy and a more efficient army, we may expect to get into the armed conflict when it comes.

The German Situation

Germany has definitely removed herself from obligations to the Versailles Treaty. Europe has been in a turmoil for several weeks. Germany asserts that the Allies failed to live up to the treaty, and she was obliged to do

Rural Teachers of County in Meeting

About one hundred rural school teachers attended the Nodaway County Rural School Teachers meeting held at the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College Saturday, March 23. The meeting was called by Mr. W. H. Burr, Nodaway County Superintendent of Public Schools, so that standard examination questions could be issued to the teachers of the county.

Mr. E. R. Kelly, Kansas City, Missouri, and Mrs. Fred Wright of Maryville were the guest speakers at the teachers' conference. Mr. Burr also announced that the county chorus was to be April 5, at 7:30 p. m., and that the all-county rehearsal would be at nine o'clock in the morning of the same day.

Pictures Taken for H. S. Annual

Mr. Marcell was at the College High School Tuesday taking photographs for the high school annual. He took pictures of the Junior Class, two sections of the Sophomore class, the kings and queens, Mr. Dieterich, the staff of Memories, the C. H. S. Mirror staff, and the Freshman class.

An article "We Are the Measles," appearing in the C. H. S. Mirror, lists 29 students who have had the measles this year.

HALF HOUR MUSICALS

Three students from the Conservatory of Music provided the program for the Musical Half Hour, Tuesday evening, March 26, in Social Hall. This musical program is always well attended. The number present leads us to believe that greater appreciation for the better type of musical programs are rapidly being developed. Students providing this week's program were: Misses Virginia Mutz and Helen Gaugh, pianists; and Robert Curfman, violinist.

sp. Sir John Simon and Capt. Anthony Eden have just finished a conference with Hitler in which they failed to do anything that they intended to do. Hitler refused to return to the League of Nations until Germany will be permitted to receive the same privileges that the other countries exercise. Spring Training For Football

Nearly thirty candidates have already answered Coach E. A. Davis' call for men for spring football practice. This is the second year for spring football and the turnout is much better than it was last year. Many veteran and prospective players for next season's team are now in training for track, and consequently will miss this valuable training.

There are a good many back-field men who are looking good in practice. Yates, Good, Stenger, Marvick, and Farrar are the experienced players in this department. Probably the most outstanding new man is Sadler, 215 pound fullback from Creston, Iowa. He was all-state high school full back, and despite his weight is fast and shifty. French and Winger, two boys who have donned uniforms for the first time, are showing considerable promise for the backfield. French is a rangy 170-pounder who can kick, pass, and run; although this is his first attempt at football, he should make a brilliant and heady back. Winger's chief asset is his speed. This 160-pound Skidmore boy wants to play and shows every promise of making good.

The line is not represented by so much experienced material. Glenn Rouse and Luke Palumbo are the only regulars in practice. Creech, Allen, and John Green are all back from the fall squad. Allen, in particular, is looking as if he will be able to make the grade. Crosson, a tackle from last year has checked out a suit, he weighed in at 198 pounds Wednesday. The fact that he is bigger will make him more valuable next year. Johnson and Fordyce, two more veterans have been at work.

The new men out for line positions seem almost unanimously to lack size. Irvine and Garner are the biggest of the lot. Perkins, Bassett, and several others are also line candidates. Earnest Morrow, senior guard and tackle, is assisting Coach Davis with the line.

In all, it appears that there are not too many future football stars among the candidates, but the men are needed for work, and there is always a possibility of discovering talent. There are still plenty of suits for boys who want to play football, and Coach Davis will be glad to have any additional men.

Dope Bucket

The Rolla Miners have probably the largest track squad in the conference. They have 10 lettermen and some 35 or 40 non-lettermen reporting for practice each day.

Rolla, competing in the conference for the first time, are planning on coming into the conference with a winner in track.

The final track schedule for the Springfield Bears was announced this week, they meet six times this season, one being an inter-class meet.

Approximately 40 applicants have been issued uniforms and track workouts for the 1935 season are being held daily at Cape Girardeau. Thirteen lettermen will be back in uniform for the Indians.

Leland Blackman, track letterman, injured while conditioning himself in the Gym at Kirksville last week, may be lost to the Bulldogs' squad for the season. Blackman, one of the returning eight lettermen, for the Bulldogs, did good work in both track and field events last year and up to the time of the accident last week had been one of Coach Faurot's main-stays on the squad.

The Southwest Standard sports editor is predicting that Cape will win the conference championship in track this season. The Southwest Standard is the official paper of Springfield Teachers College.

Many Mule lettermen in track and some new material are getting into shape for the track season by reporting to the spring football practices. Coach T. C. Reid will not do much work on the track until after the six weeks training which football coach Carl Voltmer is putting the Warrensburg boys through, has been completed. There are thirteen track men out for spring football and about fifteen men working out for track at Warrensburg now.

With all the opponents working hard to take the track championship away from the Bearcats, Coach Stalcup is putting the thirty-eight members of the Bearcat squad through regular practise.

Letter of Thanks From McFall Visitors

President Lamkin and Mr. Dieterich have each received letters from Mr. A. Loyd Collins, superintendent of schools at McFall, expressing thanks for the courtesy extended him, his senior class, and Mr. C. O. Rhodes, secretary of the board of education of McFall, when they visited the College last Friday, March 22. Mr. Dieterich showed the students and the sponsors the College and campus.

President Lamkin's letter from Mr. Collins, in part, is as follows: "I want to express to you my very grateful thanks for your generous hospitality and kindness in connection with my brief visit at the College yesterday afternoon. Our visit proved most delightful in every respect, and we feel indebted to you for the courtesy extended."

Intramural Kittenball

The intramural softball league opened up last week with a forfeit and two of the most lopsided games ever recorded in the history of the sport on the campus. Grayes' Tigers were forced to forfeit to Crow's Mules when the former were unable to put seven men on the field.

The season actually started when the Midgets trounced the Gexbirds 18 to 9. The Midgets, heavy favorites to take the title this year, played around in the early innings and were forced to stage a rally late in the game. Goode and Phelps started the scoring in the second inning as the Midgets took advantage of two hits and an error for two markers. The Gexbirds came back in the third inning with six runs gained from two hits, a walk, and four errors on the Midgetmen. The Midgets scored three runs in the fourth to tie the score and the Gexbirds forged ahead with a score in the fifth inning, and repeated the run in the sixth. In their half of the sixth, fifteen lilliputians came to bat and battered out five hits, took two walks, and were benefitted by five errors, all of which they converted into eleven runs. The Gexbirds finished the scoring in the seventh.

Goode, left fielder for the little men, had a perfect day at bat with four singles in four times up. Gates led the losers with two singles in three trips to the plate. Gexbirds 006 011 1-9-8-10 Midgets 022 30(11) x-18-11-5

The Sigma Taus encountered no difficulty in removing the Pelicans 18 to 0 in the third game of the season last Friday. The offerings of Peetoom and St. John were good enough to hold the Pelicans to one hit. The Taus battered Loch for 22 clean hits. The tropical birds played only eight men and left the fields practically wide open for the Tau men. Zakoura took batting honors with a perfect record of four hits in four times up.

The Sigma Mus defeated the Potwallopers 6 to 3 in their encounter this week. Both sides played good ball, neither scoring until the fifth inning when the Mus shoved over a marker and the Potwallopers retaliated with two doubles and a single which were good for three runs. The Mus put the game away in the seventh inning when the made two hits score five runs. Bird, Mu southpaw, walked five and whiffed out 10. Marvick, tossing for the Potwallopers, walked three and fanned six.

The Gexbirds took the measure of the Eradicators 8 to 3 Tuesday evening, when the Eradicators made their first appearance in league play. The Eradicators took a two-run lead in the first inning, but fell behind in the third when the Gexmen made two walks and a single hit into three runs. The Gexbirds finished up their tallies in the fifth inning when they scored four runs from a walk, two singles, and an error.

Each pitcher allowed six hits. Schissler, Gex pitcher, walked one

High School Radio Club Organized

Students interested in radio met Monday, March 24, to organize a radio club. Temporary officers were elected until a later date. A program was given on the pioneers in radio and their contributions toward the advancement of radio science. The club is under the direction of Mr. C. H. Long, a pioneer radio man in the D-X field and is the first person in Missouri to receive signals from stations on the Western coast of Australia. Members of the club have pledged to do valuable work in radio, and have already presented and discussed plans for amateur radios.

24 Faculty Members Have Served More Than Ten Years

At the present time there are twenty-eight members of the Northwest Missouri Teachers College faculty, four of whom are officers of the administration who have been in the service of their institution for the last ten years or longer. These men and women have devoted their time and energy to the managing of the school and to the educating of teachers for the various school systems, and during these last few years which they have spent in educating others, they have sent out hundreds of the most capable men and women.

George H. Colbert, instructor of mathematics, has the distinction of having had a close connection with this school since its founding in 1905. The place of honor which he has achieved is not a mere trick of caprice, but is the painstaking fulfillment of his daily tasks as dean and teacher for thirty years in this institution.

Uel W. Lamkin, A. M., LL. D., was elected president of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College on June 6, 1921 and began his administration the following September.

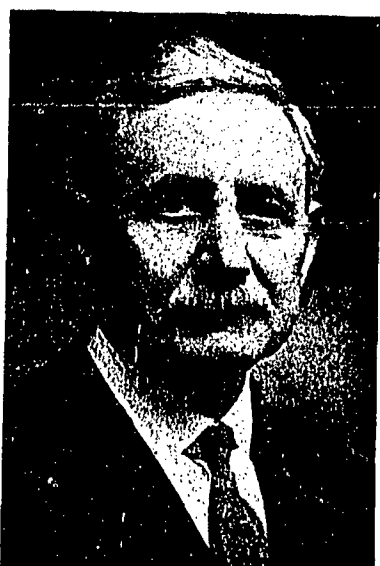

On the list of faculty members for 1910 appeared the names of Miss Hettie Anthony, teacher of domestic science; W. A. Ricken-brode, registrar and instructor in music and bookkeeping; T. H. Cook, elementary school and American history; Miss Carrie Hopkins, primary critic teacher; and Miss Katherine Helwig, elementary school teacher.

The board of regents confirmed the appointment of Miss Anna M. Painter of New Castle, Indiana, to fill the vacancy in the English department in June, 1921. Other instructors in English are Miss Estelle Bowman, A. B., Washburn College and Graduate work in the Universities of Colorado, Kansas and Wisconsin; Mattie M. Dykes, B. S., Northwest Missouri S. T. C., M. A., University of Chicago.

Bert Cooper, representative of Nodaway County, who received his B. S. degree from this College and Roy A. Kinnaird, B. S., M. A., College of Agriculture at University of Missouri, have taught agriculture at the College for the last few years.

Members of the faculty who have taught courses in Education for more than ten years include: Dora B. Smith, B. S., Central Missouri State Teachers College, Ph. B., University of Chicago; Grace M. Shepherd, A. B., Hastings College, M. A., Columbia University, Graduate work in University of Chicago; Katherine Instructors in the Arts department are Olive S. DeLuce, A. M., Columbia University; Mary M. Fisher, B. S., University of Missouri, Graduate work in Teachers College, New York and University of Missouri.

During the last few years A.

J. Carfield, B. A., Northern University, Ohio, B. S., University of Chicago, M. A., University of Wisconsin, has instructed courses in geography. J. W. Hake, B. S., Central Wesleyan, B. A., University of Illinois, A. M., Northwestern, has instructed courses in physics; and M. W. Wilson, B. A., Olivet College, M. S., University of Chicago, has had charge of the chemistry department.

Miss Minnie B. James, instructor in commerce, Henry A. Foster, history instructor, Miss Geneva Wilfley, instructor in piano, and Miss Blanche Dow, instructor in French, are the only instructors in their departments who have taught in this College for ten years or longer.

Miss Nell Hudson, former secretary to the president, is now registrar; and C. E. Wells, former instructor of history and Spanish, is librarian at the present time.

These faculty members mentioned above have forty-two degrees and have attended twenty-six different colleges and universities. Eight members from this group have attended Chicago University, seven have attended the University of Missouri, five have attended Columbia University in New York, four have attended the Teachers College in New York and four have received degrees at the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College at Maryville.

Says Sales Tax to Favor Rural Counties

Representative Bert Cooper in a letter to the Maryville Forum printed Saturday, March 23rd, stated that the 2 per cent sales tax as perfected in the House of Representatives on Wednesday, March 20th, will bring more money into Nodaway County than the county will pay in tax.

Mr. Cooper's figures show a prospective gain to the county of more than $2,000. He explains this by the fact that the large cities will pay much more in sales tax than they will receive.

Mr. Cooper informs us that the revenue will be allocated as follows:

"Thirty percent, to relief, not to exceed $6,000,000 annually.

Ten percent to old age pensions, not to exceed $2,000,000 annually.

Ten percent to the care of the insane poor, not to exceed $2,000,000 annually."

The remainder is to be distributed through the public school funds where it will relieve taxes on real estate and other tangible property.

The money designated for school use, says Mr. Cooper, is earmarked so that none goes into the general revenue. It will not affect the appropriation of the college.

English is the foremost language taught in schools of Japan.
